IF IT WILL HELP ALBERTA
THE BULLETIN IS FOR IT.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1927

YOU'RE LIVING RIGHT IN IT

While other parts of Canada are rejoicing in good crops, those of us who live in Alberta, and especially in northern Alberta, have reason for double concern.

Crop reports from federal and provincial governments, from the two big transcontinental railroads, and from the grain trade statistics show that the crop from this section of Canada is away above the average. Alberta will harvest the biggest crop in its history. Peace River will ship over 3,000,000 more bushels of grain than was shipped from that district in 1925. Average yields in this province are expected to reach 20 bushels an acre. Over 150,000,000 bushels of grain will be harvested in Alberta alone.

These are government figures. There's no getting around them, and they are backed up with the figures of the two great railroads which make it their business to know just how the grain situation is each year. The grain trade, than which there is no better informed source in existence, also supports them. If anything they are conservative. There is no good reason to believe that these figures will be surpassed when the actual threshing is over. But conservative as they are, they tell conclusively which is the best section of the American continent. You're living in it.

THE QUESTION OF DEFENCE

British officers and men are being sent to the Pacific coast to protect the Pacific coast and commerce.

War came three years later, but the cruiser was not in existence. Because they were not in existence Canada had to rely upon British cruisers to protect its Atlantic coast and upon British cruisers to protect the Pacific coast and commerce.

For the presence of British warships in the Atlantic, Canada would have been obliged to pay the cost. But the Canadian government did not build, and for the fact that Britain was able to patrol the Atlantic trade routes, Canada would have been obliged to pay the cost.

Canada was thrust into that position of defence because in times of peace we did not prepare for war. The League of Nations was defeated because it was proposed to build a Canadian navy. The succeeding Government neither built a Canadian navy nor contributed to the building of British naval vessels. Stripped of party prejudice and the language of political controversy, those are the plain and well-known facts of the matter.

Canada and the other Dominions have shivered Great Britain from the position of dependency for their defence, and it does for that of "colonies." They have repudiated this inferior status in the Imperial scheme of things, and asserted their standing on a basis of equality with Britain.

This brings the matter of defence once more into the limelight. Are we going to do anything about it? Or are we going to leave it to the British? For the matter of that, we have to do it. That is the question which the taxpayers of Canada must ask themselves, and the time to start asking it is now.

MAN'S ORIGINAL CALLING

It is not new to modern people that the whole structure of existence in this part of Canada rests directly upon agriculture. The fact is so patent that it sounds commonplace when cast into almost any form of words.

But there is a refreshing originality in the fact that Premier Baldwin, in his speech at Calgary, drew in to that basic fact and emphasized that the tillage of the soil is the first business of man upon earth, the one absolutely essential occupation of the human race.

Primitive man came from a country which has been highly industrialized, where people have swarmed into great cities where they make things and carry on the buying and selling of things, and are about ready to forget the meaning of the function of farming and the thought of farming.

Yet it was not of manufacture or commerce Mr. Baldwin spoke, neither of the modern life. He spoke of the man's original occupation, the one calling he has to pursue if he is to live, and he paid a very first tribute to the men and women who have pioneered and are still pioneering, the great farming area which lies between the great lakes and the mountains.

Another point worth noting is Mr. Baldwin's statement that the factory worker or the business man in an English city has to go back only about three generations to find that his ancestors were farmers. Industrialism is modern, the creature of a day. Farming is as old as the first impulse of the race to free itself from daily dependence upon the killing of wild animals, the catching of fish, and the plucking of wild fruit.

The instinct to farm has in it the strength of an age long inheritance. It may be repressed, but it still lives. The city man has not the art that he has the undeveloped talent, acquired and handed down to his unnumbered generations of farming forefathers, given the technical knowledge, and the original culture of the race with the feeling of a wanderer returning to the home of his ancestors.

Automobiles

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The growth of the automobile industry all over the world has been remarkable. It is probably the outstanding business of the age in the matter of rapid development.

Has it reached its limit? Has the "saturation" point been reached? According to the general manager of one of the distributors for Southern California it has not.

He says that any man who is in the car business in California is in the car business in California. He says that any man who is in the car business in California is in the car business in California.

Native Sons of Canada Provincial Lacrosse Champions

DEFEAT CALGARY ALL STARS IN BRILLIANT DISPLAY OF GAME

FINE SHOOTING IS WITNESSED AT CONNAUGHT

Score 10 to 5 With Locals Taking Round By 12 to 7—
After Half Time Southerners Wilted and Faded From Picture

Native Sons of Canada, Edmonton's representatives in senior lacrosse, won the provincial championship by defeating the Calgary All-Stars in a fast game at Diamond Park Wednesday night, by the score of 10 to 5. In the first of the two game series, played at Calgary on Monday, Aug. 8, each team netted the ball twice. Thus the locals win the round by 12 to 7.

Superior condition and better team play turned the tide for the Native Sons. For the first two periods the southerners fought them on fairly even terms, the score at half time being 5 to 4 in favor of the visitors. But with the commencement of the third period the tide turned. The Edmontonians unleashed a fast and furious attack, and the southerners, despite the more gallant attempts made by them to defend, were unable to keep the ball out of the Edmontonians' net. Under a heavy fire of attention centered on Frank Coulson, star player, the southerners first tried to defend, but were unable to do so, and the Edmontonians scored a goal. The southerners then tried to defend, but were unable to do so, and the Edmontonians scored a goal. Cubs and Bulls will meet in the second game of the Edmonton Senior Amateur Baseball League pay-off this evening at Boyle street.

The first game played on Tuesday night, the Cubs won by a 9 to 8 score. The Bulls figure that they can turn the tables on them in this evening's fight. While no definite odds are being put on the game, it is quite probable that the Bulls will win. The game should be well worth seeing.

Frank Drayton and "Windy" Dyer will be the umpires in charge.

BUSINESSMEN CRICKETERS GET REVENGE UPON CITY FATHERS

"Bury's Bruisers" Go Down In Ignominious Defeat When George Dewar's "Batting Businessmen" Give Sensational Fielding Display

George Dewar and his Businessmen cricketers obtained their revenge for the defeat inflicted upon them a fortnight ago, when they turned the tables on Ambrose Bury's City Fathers Wednesday afternoon on the Victoria Park oval, winning by a score of 101 runs to 8.

Bury's Bruisers, it might be said, were the victims of a sensational fielding display by the Businessmen. It looked like a victory for the Businessmen, but the City Fathers were not to be so easily beaten. They fought back and won.
